- The Order constitutes an offer by the Customer to purchase the Goods in accordance with these Conditions. The Customer is responsible for ensuring that the terms of the Order and any applicable Specification submitted by the Customer are complete and accurate.
- The Order shall only be deemed to be accepted when the Supplier issues a written acceptance of the Order, at which point the Contract shall come into existence.
- The Customer waives any right it might otherwise have to rely on any term endorsed upon, delivered with or contained in:
 - any documents of the Customer; or
 - any framework agreement or other supply agreement to which the Customer and Supplier might be parties,in either case, that is inconsistent with these Conditions.

- A quotation for the Goods given by the Supplier shall not constitute an offer. A quotation shall only be valid for a period of 90 days from its date of issue, unless revoked by supplier.

3. Goods

- For standard Goods, the Goods are described in the Supplier's catalogue.
- For personalized Goods, the Goods are described in the Supplier's catalogue, as modified by any applicable Specification. For the purposes of these Conditions, the phrase "personalized Goods" refers to standard products that are included in the Supplier's catalogue in relation to which the Customer may at its option request the addition of their own name, branding or other similar cosmetic changes which are not amendment to the underlying specification of the item in question.

- For bespoke Goods, the Goods are described in the Specification. For the purposes of these Conditions, the phrase "bespoke Goods" refers to items that are non-standard items that are not in the Supplier's catalogue.
- The Supplier may notify the Customer that an Order placed by it is to be treated as a "specials order". The number of units that may be purchased by the Customer under a specials order shall be subject to such minimum number as the Supplier may specify.

- If the Supplier fails to deliver the Goods, its liability shall be limited to the costs and expenses incurred by the Customer in obtaining replacement goods of similar description and quality in the cheapest market available, less the price of the Goods. - Save as provided in this clause, no Order may be cancelled by the Customer except with the written agreement of the Supplier and on terms that the Customer shall indemnify the Supplier in full against all loss (including loss of profit), cost, damages, charges and expenses incurred by the Supplier as a result of cancellation.

7. Samples

Where the Customer requests (and the Supplier agreed to provide) samples of Goods, the Supplier shall be entitled to invoice the Customer the full price of such samples upon dispatch. Such invoice will be credited provided that the Customer returns the relevant items at its own expense in unused and undamaged condition within 30 days of delivery. If the relevant items are not so returned, the Customer will become immediately liable to pay the amount invoiced.

8. Title and risk
